A BRIEF HISTORICAL SKETCH

OF SALEM, N. C.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO! What a host of interesting thoughts are suggested as we cast a glance over the history of the past century.—True the year 1766 may not have been remarkable in the world's history, yet, to us, here at Salem, it is the measuring point from which we date our existence as a town.

In glancing at the history of those early times, we find this country in a provincial or colonial state. There was no independent government. English laws and customs prevailed, and the people acknowledged their supremacy, though badly administered by the imbecile George III, and his fawning Parliament, who had already passed the infamous "Stamp Act," which a few years after agitated the American colonies, and kindled the first fires of the old Revolutionary war, which was destined to give birth to a new nation, with new combinations, based upon the then untried system of popular government.

Our great grand-fathers were a hardy, robust, and resolute people, who risked their all under the direction of a good Providence, on whom they always relied in time past, and had never been put to shame. Depending upon their extions, under the blessing of God, they worked with a will, to succeed in their enterprise, looking forward to a glorious future, to be enjoyed by their children; and we can well attest how faithfully the confidence our fathers placed in the good Shepherd, has been rewarded in the blessings which we, their children, have enjoyed for a century past.

The country chosen by the Moravians was then a comparative wildrness. They were literally alone in the forest. Instead of receiving assistance from others, they themselves were called on to relieve the wants of the scattered settlers within reach.

Their ministers preached the "Word of Life;" their surgeons were called upon to travel great distances to relieve the sick; their farms were well cultivated and yielded abundantly, and their grist mill was a useful novelty for many years after they had firmly established themselves.

But few roads, save the blazed openings of the hunter or the pioneer, reached out towards the settlements of Eastern Carolina, or the neighboring colony of Virginia. It was a hazardous undertaking and an era in one's life to travel in those days, and the "Dutch Settlements" were hailed by the lonely wanderer as a land of plenty, where hospitality was freely extended to all alike. The arrival of a stranger was the fireside gossip in the little settlement for weeks, they brought news from the outer world and found a welcome in every family.

One of the leading features in the character of our forefathers was the attention they paid to practical education, and a steady encouragement of the useful mechanical avocations, as well as the other improvements in and about the town. Music formed one of their recreations, and was scientifically cultivated, which trait yet exists among us, as the experience of the past few days amply proves.

Such men were the early settlers of Salem—a hardy, honest and pious people, who sought amidst the wilds of Western North Carolina, a home where they could worship God according to the dictates of their consciences and the customs of their fathers, without the hinderances and aggravations incident to the old monarchial governments of Europe and their legally established religions. This home they found in Wachovia, a tract of land, purchased from John Earl Granville, and on Nov. 17th, in the year 1753, commenced the settlement of Bethabara (Old Town,) and, a few years after, the town of Bethania.

For the space of twelve years the Moravians had established themselves in North Carolina, and had endured the hardships incident to new settlements, and considering themselves firmly established in their forest home, they commenced making preparations towards establishing the long contemplated "central location of a town, which had been named Salem, by Count Zinzendorf." In the year 1765, during the temporary presence of Br. F. W. de Marshall and John Frommelt, a spot was selected which seemed suitable for the intended purpose.

The year had scarcely been ushered in ere the axes of the hardy pioneers were employed to cut a road through the wood land from Bethabara, (Old Town,) and on the 6th of January, the first tree was felled towards erecting the first house, around which was to spring up and grow our beloved and beautiful town.

While the structure was going on, the brethren dwelt in a tent, and on the 19th of February the following brethren took up their abode in the little hut:

Gottfried Præzel, from Europe.
Neils Peterson, " Jens Schmidt, "
John Birkhead, "
George Holder, from Bethabara.
Jacob Steiner, "
Michael Ziegler, " Melchoir Rasp, "

This log house is still standing, and occupied as a pottery.

On February 20th, Br. Reuter, surveyed the ridge running north and south, and laid out the main street and two squares, one of which was subsequently selected as the public square.

Several springs, lying east and west of the street, were also examined by the surveying party.

During the Summer, two new houses were erected, the first one is still standing, and was recently occupied by the late Br. Wm. Fries.

The first religious services were held in this house. A loom set up, and also the saddlery business commenced.

In the Fall of the same year, 29 brethren and sisters arrived from Pennsylvania, accompanied by Rev. Richard Utley, who became the English minister of Dobb's Parish, as the Moravian tract was then called.

In 1767, new roads were opened from Salem to Town Fork, Dan river, Belews creek and to Uwharie river.

In 1768, Br. Fred. Wm. de Marshall, generally considered the founder of Salem, arrived and took up his permanent residence.

In the year 1770, the first married couple moved to Salem, and four brethren arrived direct from Europe.

The Regulators troubled the brethren considerably.

Br. Jno. Birkhead, one of the first settlers, died, and his body was the first interred in our present graveyard.

In 1772, the majority of the inhabitants of Bethabara moved to Salem, and from that time our town became the centre of trade in Wachovia.

The first bell, weighing 275 lbs., arrived in Salem. An organ, with two stops, was finished. The first marriage took place this year.

At the close of this year the population of Salem amounted to 120.

In 1773, Rev. J. M. Graff removed from Bethabara to Salem as the first Moravian Bishop in North Carolina.

In the year 1775 the Revolutionary war broke out.

It is generally known that the Moravians as a body, had always abstained from any participation in the political movements in the different countries where they settled, but were always willing to bear any burdens which the governments saw fit to impose upon them. In consequence of their conscientious scruples as to military service, they were subjected to many troubles resulting from unjust and unfair reflections being cast upon them by mischievous and evil disposed persons. They cheerfully rendered every assistance required of them by the government, and paid a double tax by way of exemption from military duty.

Notwithstanding their exposed and defenceless condition, they were most wonderfully protected by God, during the long struggle which resulted in the independence of the then united colonies. The following incident will serve to illustrate the dangers to which they were exposed:

On the second of June, 1776, four armed men created considerable trouble. They endeavored to ride into the tavern, and upon being resisted, severely beat one of the brethren, (John Fry) and forcing an entrance, the life of the landlord was threatened, and numerous outrages committed. All endeavors failed to pacify them, and all who came in contact with them were abused and maltreated. Three travelers were roughly handled, two of the brethren knocked down and others more or less severely wounded. All these incidents occurred within an hour's time, when finally, forbearance ceasing to be a virtue, these ruffians were secured and subsequently handed over to a militia company, which happened to be near by.

Many incidents might be adduced showing the true position of the Brethren as non combatants, but our limited space forbids.

In 1778, first water works put in operation, On February 9th, 1781, the British army under Cornwallis, passed through Salem.

In November 1731 and Jan. 1782, about sixty members of the General Assembly of N. C., with Gov. Alexander Martin, spent several weeks in Salem, for the purpose of holding their sessions, but failed for want of a quorum. The large number of men, with an additional guard of militia, created considerable inconvenience. On Saturday evening of the second week of their stay information was received that a large force of tories were approaching to capture the Governor and the Assembly. Every disposition for defence having been made, and the first commotion subsided, the Governor, principal officers, and members of the Assembly, met, by invitation, in Mr. Marshall's apartment, where a collation was served, and the company passed the greater portion of the night in interesting conversation, chiefly in connection with the Brethren's church, calmly awaiting the result. The report proved a false alarm.

In 1785, two fire engines were imported from Europe.

1787. Introduction of lightning rods.

1791. Paper-mill near Salem finished. Town clock in Salem.

On May 31st, 1791, Salem was visited by the first President of the United States, GEORGE WASHINGTON.

The year 1793 was remarkable for the fact that no death occurred that year.

In 1804 the well known Salem Female Academy was opened.

1806 Town Clock improved by Mr. Eberhard, to strike the quarters.

In 1815, the first wool carding machinery was introduced in this State by V. N. Zevely.

In 1828 new water works were erected.

1833. Aug. 22.—Severe hail storm, destroying upwards of 3,700 window panes. There was not a sufficient number in town to repair the damage. Infant School opened.

1836. Salem Cotton Manufacturing Company organized.

In 1840 three different epidemics prevailed at different seasons of the year. In the spring, 114 young persons, including 70 pupils of the S. F. Academy and 15 adults, were sick with the measles. In the earlier part of autum about 100 persons were prostrated with fever, and at a later period of the year the influenza prevailed to considerable extent.

1849. Court House of Forsythe County located.

1853. Salem Church 50 years old.

1856. Salem incorporated as a town. In January, weather intensely cold.

1864. July 1, Mr. Henrys Schaffner's dwelling destroyed by fire, being the second dwelling thus destroyed during the century.—The first being the tavern, destroyed Jan. 31, 1803.

At the end of the first century, Salem Congregation numbered 659 persons.

From 1766 to 1866, the whole number of children born was 1,011. Whole number of persons died 705. Number of couples married 311.

The number of pupils educated in Salem Female Academy, during its existence is 4,443.

Most of the events since 1856 are yet fresh in our memories, and want of room forbids even an illusion; indeed we have omitted much of an interesting historical nature connected with our town.

For many of the above particulars we are indebted to Rev. E. A. DeSchweintz, who kindly allowed us to perise the historical sketch read by him on Monday last.

PROSPECTUS
COSMOPOLITE.

ON THE FIRST OF JANUARY WE WILL commence the publication, in the City of Baltimore, of a monthly Literary Magazine.

There is no publication of this character now issued South of New York City, and the closing of the war has left a large portion of the people of the country with no literary representative.
The COSMOPOLITE will be devoted to Literature, Art, Reviews, Scientific Papers and General Reading, and we shall number among its contributors some of the first literary men of the South, with others from the North and from London and Paris.
All matter not original will be carefully selected from the newest and best of the English, French and German publications; and its Editors will spare no effort or expense to make it rank with the very first magazines of the country.
As its name imports, we have established the COSMOPOLITE upon no sectional basis. We hope to make it the organ of general literature alone; and will be uninfluenced by any party or clique whatever.
It will be mailed to subscribers in any part of the country upon receipt of the following
Subscription:

Single Copies, for one year,	$4 00
Five Copies for one year,	18 00

☞ Liberal deductions will be made to booksellers and newsdealers.
☞ Newspapers publishing this prospectus and sending a marked copy to the undersigned, will receive a copy of the magazine. Address

Our terms are invariably in advance. The Weekly and Semi-weekly will be issued about the first of January. Money may be sent us by the Rail Road conductors or the Express Companies.

The Legislature.

Less than a week is fixed upon as the day for the adjournment of the Legislature. In that time a good deal may be done of importance to the State. There will, however, be little time for talk, beyond what may be necessary to explain.

The revenue bill is nearly through the course of its readings in the Senate, having already passed the House. The completion of the Freedmen's Code, will, we hope, be effected very soon. The bill to fund the interest of the State due and falling due—the disposition of the Common School interest—and some provision to increase the circulation of currency either by banks or otherwise, seem to constitute all the important matters now before the Legislature.

The economical and political condition of the people of the State is anomalous, perplexing and in many respects, distressing. To cure these depends more upon the efforts of the people than of the Legislature. Yet it is the bounden duty of the Legislature as far as possible to encourage energy and enterprise by assisting them, and to place the political status of the State on a proper basis. These being done, the body may close its sittings with the consciousness of having done what it could. If the Legislature should close its session, leaving the State credit in its present condition, the supply of currency unprovided for and the political status of the State unimproved, it had been better never to have assembled.

The State Credit.

Under the delays and doubts created by the inaction of the Legislature, North Carolina credit must continue to decline. Should the Legislature fail to pass a bill funding the interest due on the State bonds, it will be useless for the State or her citizens to make effort to extend their credit. If that is not done, the State could not borrow on any safe terms $100,000 for five years.

Promises or pledges contained in resolutions, may perhaps impress the masses for a while, but they do not move a dollar from the pocket of a capitalist, who loans only to prompt paymasters or who, if they cannot pay, will at least do the next best thing.

The objection to compounding the States' interest as a settled practice, would be hazardous; but not half so much so as the loss of credit.—It is proposed simply as a remedy for the present exigency, until the State can rally from her depressed condition, and as the only resort left the State. It is an unsound maxim, when you cannot do as well as you desire, to do nothing. Wisdom demands that when you cannot do as you wish, do the best you can.

Our Neighbor and the Watchman.

We have no defence to make, nor do we offer an apology, for disloyal sentiments from any quarter; and we think it imprudent and in bad taste to call any one, at present, in this country "seditionists and traitors." We do not believe that there is a man in the South, entitled to respect as a man of sense, who designedly utters seditious language, or who can be truthfully charged with being a traitor to the government. Hence, we condemn the use of such terms on the part of our neighbor, as applicable to Southern men since the war. Nor do we believe that the term can be justly applied to Northern men; though we think with President Johnson, that the views and policy of certain men at the North if unchecked, would lead to a total perversion and overthrow of our present government. Hence, we do not justify the application of such epithets to Mr. Seward or Mr. Stanton. But how often is it the case that editors insert articles copied from other papers, with expressions which they do not endorse, though they do the general tone of the article. This might have been the case with the Watchman.

But take it in its worst form, as really endorsed by the Watchman, that does not prove that Dr Deems is "a secessionist or his paper a secession paper." That is the charge made by the Standard. This we denied and defied the Standard to prove. Has it proved it? Certainly not.—It backed down from its position, and then called him a war man, and went off into a tangent about Dr. Deems' war speeches. Now we deny that Dr. Deems made a war speech during the war. We never heard him, but we have heard him say that he never made a war speech. He talked about the war of course. In raising funds to educate the orphans of the soldiers, of course he alluded a good deal to the war. But he contends that what he said was germane to his mission, and that his speeches were not war speeches.

Well Done Virginia.

The Legislature of Virginia has passed the bill funding the interest due by the State on her bonds. Her interest now due is nearly $8,000,000, and with one third of her territory set off to another State, she marches up to her duty promptly. The interest now due by North Carolina is $3,500,000, and yet her Legislature hesitates. It is afraid of compounding.

General Banks will shortly make an elaborate speech, and it is rumored that he will go with the Conservatives, sustaining President Johnson and refusing further political association with Stevens and Sumner.

Loyal or Disloyal.

We should be glad to see it authoritatively settled in this country, definitely, as to what is loyalty or disloyalty or what constitutes a loyal citizen. We have all along thought we understood the President, and we have acted upon that construction: that all persons in the South who subscribed the oath of amnesty and sincerely rendered obedience to the constitution and laws were loyal citizens. We have seen nothing from him to change this opinion. The following dispatch which we copy from an exchange confirms this view.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.

Mr. Laffin, of Herkimer county; Mr. Humphrey, of Brooklyn, and other gentlemen from New York, had an interview with the President last night. He reiterated his views on national subjects, as already published.

When asked if he approved the congressional test oath The President replied that he thought it too severe, and gave his opinion that the men who could take an oath to support the Constitution should be admitted to seats in Congress; but he added that he would not quarrel with Congress on this point.

This standard does not suit some of the presses of the South, any more than it does some of the Northern presses, yet it is the only true, legitimate standard.

Captions of the Laws.

We will prepare Captions of the Laws and have them ready for members of the Legislature at an early day. Those who desire them will please inform us at once of the number.

Fenian Troubles.

The British government having become satisfied of the purposes and the extent of the Fenian disaffection, has adopted the most stringent measures for the suppression of the order. Ireland has been declared in a state of rebellion, and the writ of habeas corpus has been suspended.

The effect of the news upon the Fenians in this country is intensely exciting. Meetings are being held by them in different sections. It is probable the excitement will rise to its pitch and then subside, ending in smoke. The object of the Fenians to render Ireland independent, can only be effected by involving the United States in a collision with Great Britain, an event which we hope is far distant.

PROCLAMATION.—Washington correspondents continue to reiterate that the President will issue his proclamation in a few days declaring the war at an end, and the Southern States entitled to all the privileges of States.

MR. SEWARD.—It is now stated that one of the objects of Mr. Seward's visit to the West Indies, was to secure the Island of St. Thomas as a coal depot and rendezvous for U. S. vessels.

RICHMOND SENTINEL AND ENQUIRER.—These two papers have been merged into one. Mr. Tyler retires from the editorial chair and Messrs. Smith and Coleman are editors of the united paper. The Sentinel we have regarded as one of our best exchanges under the conduct of Mr. Smith. It was dignified, conservative and always sensible. We hope the union will be to the advantage of all concerned.

North Carolina Iron, &c.

The rolled iron and castings made at the Eudor Works, located in the Deep River Region of this State, are very highly recommended by competent judges. It is gratifying to every North Carolinian to know that his State, whatever her present pecuniary distress, has the natural resources that will enable her to recuperate her shattered fortunes in time.

The immense natural wealth of the Deep River Region is so well known, that it is a matter of surprise to us that millions of dollars of Northern capital have not been attracted thither for investment. How it happens that some enterprising Pennsylvanian has not yet been there and made a discovery of petroleum, is a mystery that cannot be unraveled. That petroleum abounds there, there can be no sort of doubt; and are the lapse of many years there will be no end to the "joint stock companies" organized for operations in that section.

But even if the effort to discover petroleum should be a failure, the inexaustible deposits of coal and iron are sufficient to make it a region of incalculable natural wealth. Would not coal and iron form a good basis of a national bank? It would certainly have the necessary degree of firmness. But what we need now for the development of our resources is capital, and he who can succeed in perfecting a plan for bringing the capital into North Carolina, will receive the thanks of our entire people.

Our public men of ability seem to have lost all energy. Now is the time for them to let the people hear from them on these questions, so nearly effecting the interests of our State.—Wilmington Dispatch.

General Joseph E. Wheeler, the famous Confederate cavalry officer, has taken unto himself a help-meet—Miss Ellen Jones, of Lawrence County, Alabama. They were married on the eighth ult.

The N. Y. Watchman says the Richmond Examiner was not killed. It was only Terrified, and a new lease of life has been Granted.

L. D. Pender was elected County Solicitor, R. H. Austin, County Trustee, and J. B. Campbell, Register. Excellent appointments.

CARTERET.—At the first term of the County Court of Carteret, recently held, Jno. M. Perry, Esq., was elected County Attorney. Rev. John Rumley was elected Register. James Rumley, Esq., Esq., qualified as County Court Clerk, and J. Henry Davis, jr., as Sheriff.

For the Sentinel.

Gen. Lane's School.

Among the Literary Institutions existing or springing up in our State, perhaps none have higher claims to patronage than that just established at Concord, N. C., by Gen. Jas. H. Lane, the gallant Major of that glorious First Regiment of North Carolina Volunteers, which gained the first victory in the late War, at Big Bethel; then Colonel of another North Carolina Regiment, and lastly General of a North Carolina Brigade—a Brigade admitted on all hands to stand first among the various distinguished North Carolina Brigades, in all good qualities of gallant soldiers—a rank which could never have been attained under any but a commander of the highest merit as a soldier and a gentleman.

But not thus only is Gen. Lane distinguished. He was a soldier from necessity—because his country needed his services in the field—but a Scholar and Professor from choice. He graduated successively at the University of Virginia, and at the Virginia Military Institute, and then, previous to entering the Army, had been successfully engaged in teaching, having filled successively the positions of Assistant Professor in the Virginia Military Institute, Professor in the State Seminary of Florida, and Professor in the N. C. Military Institute, at Charlotte.

The war having ended in disaster, Gen. Lane put his hand to the plough, literally. He has been induced to leave that occupation for one more congenial to his habits and to the physical ability of a wounded soldier. His School is in a very quiet and moral little town, easily accessible by railroad. We trust and believe that he will make it a most valuable Seminary of sound learning, and that he will realize for himself all the rewards justly due to capability and faithfulness. H.

A New Financial Suggestion.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—I believe the best legislation of the country is done near the close of the session—and now in our extremity and poverty, I propose a financial plan, that is simple, practicable, efficient and fair.

All admit that if the two banks in which the State has half a million of dollars, are required to wind up, the State will lose its half million of dollars in each, and all must admit that the State in refusing to pay the banks the money loaned them, has broken them—then it is fair for the State to do something to relieve them, and the people.

My plan is for the State to fund the notes of the Bank of N. C. and Bank of Cape Fear, at 50 cents on the dollar, in bonds running 20 years—this would require an issue of about one million of dollars, in bonds—the state hold these notes, until the banks can redeem them.

Give the Banks permission to go into National Banks, on their specie, and as they realize National currency from their old debt, which I suppose is from one to two millions dollars, increase the capital of the Banks, and in eighteen months we would have two large National Banks, of at least two million of dollars,—the State owning one third in one, and one fifth in the other. This plan would obviate the legal or moral objection, that the specie belongs to the note holders, because the State propose a better arrangement for them, and many of them, to my knowledge, would be glad of such an arrangement.

The benefits of this plan might be extended further, to the positive benefits of all tax payers, by allowing them to pay one fourth their State taxes in the notes of these two Banks, at 50 cents on the dollar,—the notes to be held by the State against the Banks, the same as those funded.

This plan is simple and could be made to work right off, its benefits would be felt instantly in appreciating the notes of the Banks, and a general revival of confidence, because every one nearly would have some little currency in his pocket.

This plan is fair and honest, because you are benefitting the note holders.

This plan is just, because the Banks can do more for the old depositors than any other, by paying them out of their assets.

The above is a hasty sketch. It is so simple all can understand it, and I think ought to adopt it. J. W. H.

March 5, 1866.

The French organ, the Courier des Etats Unis—and the French are proverbially fastidious—in commenting upon the President's speech, says that he is one of those rare men who can descend from his great place to a level without soiling the robes of office. The Courier asks, in the same article—"Is it possible that the land between the Potomac and the Rio Grande is the only land on this continent that produces men of great talents and great courage."—Richmond Whig.

HON. A. H. STEPHENS.—A Washington dispatch states that the recent speech of Mr. Stephens, an abstract of which we published a few days since in this paper, has created a great sensation there. It is regarded as one of the best efforts of his life, and in tone and sentiment fully justifies the President's clemency in releasing him from Fort Warren.

It is reported on the authority of the Constitutional Union, that at a secret session of the radicals the question of impeaching President Johnson was agitated.

ARREST OF GENERAL N. B. FORREST.—We understand that General N. B. Forrest was arrested on Saturday last by U. S. Marshal Rider, on a warrant issued from the U. S. District Court in March last, on an indictment for treason. Gen. Forrest entered his personal recognizance for his appearance at the ensuing March term of said court.—Memphis Commercial, 20th.

President Johnson remains very cold and undisturbed amid the assaults elicited by his veto message, and by his great speech of last week. His private secretary collates from the various newspapers in the country the comments adverse and favorable to the firm Constitutional Stand he has taken and they are carefully noted.

Congress.

WASHINGTON, March, 4th.

The committee on reconstruction have prepared a report admitting Tennessee, which will probably be made on Monday. The Republicans are divided on the programme.

Fenian Excitement.

WASHINGTON, March, 5th.

Reports from various quarters represent the Fenian excitement to be more than ordinarily intense. The meeting at New York on yesterday, was one of the largest ever held on this continent.

Col Browning late Private Secretary of the President was buried on yesterday. A large concourse of friends present, including the President and family.

Gen. Scott at Pensacola.

WASHINGTON, March 5.

A correspondent states that Gen. Scott is now at Pensacola. His health has improved and he will not return North for some months.

The indications are that Pensacola and Key West will be abandoned as Naval Depots.

Congress.

WASHINGTON, March 5.

SENATE.—Joint resolution introduced for representation in the late rebellious States, when they repeal the distinction in civil rights on account of color, and confer suffrage upon all negroes who have served in the army, and who can read the constitution, and who pay tax on real or personal property, was referred to Committee on Reconstruction.

New York Markets.

NEW YORK, MARCH 5

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, March 2.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Times states that the Radicals have opened a vigorous and practical campaign against President Johnson. At the caucus, which assembled on Friday last, the determination to break with him was thorough and intense. A large sum of money is to be raised by a levy upon office-holders, and by private subscriptions, to carry on the war. Political speeches are to be circulated, and Forney is to have the printing of the Senate.

It is reported, on the authority of the Constitutional Union, that at a secret session of the Radicals the question of impeaching President Johnson was agitated.

The editor of the Springfield (Massachusetts) Republican, who has an office at Washington, and is deep in the secrets of the Republican party, states that the Conservative wing of that party confesses that all the schemes of reconstruction thus far proposed have utterly failed, that matters cannot go on any longer as they have been doing for the past three months. It is now conceded that Congress must either admit loyal Representatives from the Southern States or establish the terms on which it will admit them. The attempt to secure negro suffrage is, we are told, an admitted failure.

THE PATH TO HAPPINESS.—William Wirt's letter to his daughter on the "small sweet courtesies of life" contains a passage from which a great deal of happiness might be learned:

"The way to make yourself pleasing to others is to show the m attention. The whole world is like the Miller of Mansfield, "who cared for nobody—no, not he, because nobody cared for him." And the whole world would serve you so, if you gave them the same cause. Let every one, therefore, see that you care for them, by showing what Sterne so happily calls the small courtesies, in which there is no parade, whose voice is too still to tease, and which manifests themselves by tender and affectionate looks, and little acts of attention, giving others the preference in every little enjoyment at the table, in the field, walking, setting, or standing."

It is reported briefly that Mr. Stanton will positively resign, and that Gen. A. Logan, of Illinois, will be appointed to fill the vacancy.

It is thought that Gen. L. will be acceptable to all parties, and will no doubt make a very efficient officer. Rumors are again afloat that Mr. Harlan will soon retire from the Interior Department. Montgomery Blair is mentioned as his successor.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS,

Are the most perfect purgative which we are able to produce, or which we think has ever yet been made by any body. Their effects have abundantly shown to the community how much they excel the ordinary medicines in use. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart a healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also formidable and dangerous diseases. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and, being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief, were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character, as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliabilities of our remedies, while others have sent us the assurance of their conviction that our Preparations contribute immensely to the relief of our afflicted, suffering fellow men.

The Agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis our American Almanac, containing directions for the use, and certificates of their cures, of the following complaints:

Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from foul stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Morbid Inaction of the bowels and pain arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Diseases which require an evacuant medicine. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability. Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with other preparations which they make more profit on. Demand AYER'S and take no other. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., and sold by Williams & Haywood, P. F. Pescud, Raleigh, N. C., and Dealers generally.

A CARD.

THE Philanthropic Society of the University of North Carolina is anxious to have a record of the names, and, as far as is possible, of the histories also, of its members who were slain in the recent war. They may be counted by hundreds, and their blood has stained the field of every battle from Manassas to Bentonsville. Of these brave and noble men, who freely offered their young lives for the cause of their country, there should be some enduring memorial. We owe it to them, and we owe it no less to ourselves, and to those who shall come after us. Their eminent patriotism should not be forgotten, nor should the worthiness of their example be lost to their successors.

The Society has thought that its archives are a most fit place of deposit for such memorials, where they are sure to meet with reverent care and are most likely to be long preserved, and to be of the highest service to our young men hereafter.

It has, therefore, directed this appeal to be made to the kindred and friends of those, its members, who perished in the late war, and to all who may be able to render such service, that they would send to the Society such memorandums as may be had of their lives and of their death. It desires to form a complete catalogue of those whom it has lost, with biographical sketches, at full as may be, of them all; or, in default of such sketches, accounts of separate acts of virtue and daring.

Besides such memoranda, it will gladly receive any personal memorials of its deceased members, their autographs, accoutrements they wore, &c., &c. All will be duly arranged here, and carefully preserved in honor of the dead and to the use of the living for many generations; and it is believed that no where else will the memory of our departed brethren be cherished longer, or with more peculiar veneration. And now, that the late war is over; now that the last four years of bloodshed, destitution and distress have passed; now that we have resumed our former connection with the Federal government in true faith and with honest intentions, the incidents and acts connected with the war's history, are fast being effaced from the hearts and memory of the people for whom they were performed. The Society, believing that in a country whose every law breathes independence and equality, acts of worth should be perpetuated, views this fact with the deepest concern; it has, therefore, appointed its Library to be a receptacle for trophies commematory of the war, and requests contributions from her friends throughout the State. It should be a source of congratulation to the authors that their illustrious actions are not forgotten, and of pride to the country, that she is worthy of them; and equally the duty of both that they be fitly honored.

All communications made, and articles sent, should be directed to "Philanthropic Society, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill," with the name of the donor, and an appropriate description accompanying each article. All expenses connected with the sending of such articles will be defrayed by the Society.

LIFE INSURANCE NOTICE.

THE old and well established

Ætna Company, of Hartford,

Offers superior inducements to all who wish to provide for family or friends.

All losses are promptly paid. No case of litigation has ever occurred with this Company. With assetts of $2,300,000, it offers to receive one half of the premium in a note and half in cash, and, after the second year to credit each customer with the dividends of the Company, which are now 50 per cent. With a small outlay, $5000, or $10,000 or $20,000, may be secured to the family after their earthly providers are taken away. What father or husband would not feel thankful on his dying couch, that he had availed himself of every proper means to place those nearest and dearest to him, above the pinchings of want and a life of dependence upon friends or charity? 8819 policies have been issued from the office ending Jan. 15 1866. The total income for the year 1865 was $1,681,339 57; total disbursements $527 895 24, leaving a balance to surplus fund of $1,155 294 33.

In Raleigh a large number have liberally responded and promptly acted in this matter, yet many delay, and may wait until it is too late. A man in this city lately left his place of business for his evening meal, well and healthy, but never reached that home except as he was carried there to die. Had that man taken the advice of the Agent, he might have left $5000 to minister to the necessities of a sorrowing family. Delays are dangerous, procrastination destructive. But one says, "If I only had confidence in the Company that it would pay, I would insure." Well, it never has failed to pay, and to day is more responsible than ever before. It is patronized by some of the most sagacious minds in the land—men competent to detect and expose any deception if it existed.

BAUGH'S RAW BONE

Super-Phosphate of Lime.

BAUGH & SON'S,
MANUFACTURERS AND PROPRIETORS,
Store No. 20 South Delaware Avenue,
PHILADELPHIA.

THIS valuable Manure has been before the agricultural public, under one name for twelve years past, and its character for vigor of action and permanence in effect is well established. Before the war, it was introduced, to some extent, in the Southern States, and was found to be highly adapted to Cotton, Tobacco, and all Crops.

In its action, it is as quick as Peruvian Guano, while it does not leave the land in an exhausted state, but on the other hand permanently improves it. This has been fully proven by years of trial.

PROSPECTUS
OLD NORTH STATE,
"The Old North State Forever."

THE undersigned will commence the publication of a Daily and Weekly Newspaper, bearing the above title, in the city of Salisbury about the 10th of March next.

The Old North State will be, under our control, a firm and decided Union paper. But while it will be firm and decided in its support of the Union, and of all just and necessary measures tending to its complete restoration, it will yet be liberal and conservative. It will oppose radicalism from whatever quarter it may come. Confiding in the loyal intentions of the great body of the people of North Carolina, it will endeavor to soothe the asperities of the past by promoting among them a spirit of reconciliation and harmony.

Rejecting the exploded dogma of paramount State sovereignty, it will cheerfully support the National government in the exercise of every power necessary to the maintenance of its rightful authority, while it will ever contend against any encroachments upon the reserved rights of the States.

It will discuss all the various political issues of the day, but in doing this it will seek to avoid everything like partizan bitterness or personal vituperation. It will also strive to avoid that detestable practice, so common among politicians, of pandering to the passions and appealing to the prejudices of the multitude in order to accomplish partizan ends. It will endeavor to enlighten and direct aright public sentiment, by disseminating correct information, and by arguments addressed to the understanding—in short, it will endeavor to erect a high standard of political morality.

Its columns will be open for Political, Moral, Literary and Agricultural articles especially, and to the advertising public.

THE LOYALIST.

THE undersigned propose to publish in Louisburg, North Carolina, a newspaper under the above denomination. The LOYALIST, as its name imports, will yield a firm, uniform, and gentle support to the Constitution of the United States, and all laws enacted in pursuance of that great instrument. To the decisions of the Supreme Court of the nation, in such questions as originate in the interpretation or application of the principles involved in our federal jurisprudence or policy, the Loyalist will accord its unqualified acquiescence, as to the will of the American people, duly expressed through the only legitimate, determinate and sufficient medium. Its general politics will be those so long and so thoroughly taught by the patriotism, the eloquence and the wisdom of Clay, and his departed compeers, and so fearfully vindicated by the present melancholy and high as condition of the communities so recently arrayed in arms against the integrity and harmony of our national union.

The Loyalist would make the institutions and independence, the material and moral dignity of the nation, as enduring and as brilliant as the stars whose images adorn the field and the folds of its flag. The Loyalist will also dedicate its energies and exert its abilities to ascertain and cherish the interests, as well as to develope the immense resources of North Carolina. To the cause of education, the general diffusion of knowledge, the elevation of the masses, and the religious culture of all within its influence, it will be a consistent and inflexible friend. Its editorial department will be conducted by gentlemen whose names will be announced in due time.

The LOYALIST will be issued weekly, carefully printed, of the size of the Raleigh "Daily Sentinel," and furnished to patrons at $3 00 per annum, payable on delivery of the first number. Subscriptions and communications respectfully solicited.

THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE.

OUR most momentous, arduous struggle having resulted in the triumph of American Nationality, the utter discomfiture and overthrow of Secession and Slavery, The Tribune, profoundly rejoicing in this result, will labor to conserve the legitimate fruits of this grand, benignant victory by rendering Liberty and Opportunity the common heritage of the whole American People now and evermore.

Discountenancing all unmanly exultation over, or needless infliction of pain or privation on the upholders of the lost cause, it will insist on the earliest possible restoration of the Southern States to their former power and influence in our Union, on the basis of All Rights for All their People.

It will labor in hope to prove that the substitution of Free for Slave Labor must inevitably and universally conduce to the increase of Industry, Thrift, Prosperity and Wealth, so that the South within the next ten years, must look back amazed on her long persistence in a practice so baleful as the chattelizing of Man.

It will labor for the diffusion of Common School Education, Manufactures, the Useful Arts, &c., &c., throughout the sections hitherto devoid of them, believing that every good end will thereby be subserved and the interest of every useful and worthy class promoted.

It will urge the Protection of Home Industry by discriminating duties on Foreign Products imported with a view to drawing hither the most capable and skilful artisans of Europe, and the naturalizing on our soil of many branches of production hitherto all but confined to the Old World, while it would strengthen and extend those which have already a foothold among us.

It will give careful attention to progress and improvement in Agriculture, doing its best at once to bring market to the doors of our farmers, and teach them how to make the most of the opportunities thus afforded them.

It will devote constant attention to Markets especially for Agricultural Products, with intent to save both producer and consumer from being victimized by the speculator and forestaller.

And, giving fair scope to Current Literature, to the proceedings of Congress, and to the general News of the Day, it hopes to retain its old patrons, and attract many new to bear them company.

We rarely employ traveling agents, as so many impostors are habitually prowling in the assumed capacity of solicitors for journals. We prefer that our subscribers shall pay their money to persons they know, and of whose integrity they are assured. Any friend who believes he will do good by increasing the circulation of The Tribune, is authorized to solicit and receive subscriptions. Specimen copies will be promptly sent without charge to those requiring them, and we trust many friends will be moved to ask their neighbors and acquaintances to join in making up their clubs.
